From 1 day old to over 100 years old, everyone counts on your census form.

Your newborn baby? Of course he or she counts!
By responding to the 2020 Census and counting every child in your home, you’ll influence how much of the $675 billion in federal funding is invested in our community.

It’s important: The census helps determine how much funding we will receive for early education programs, schools, hospitals and many other health and social services. It also impacts our representation in Congress.

It’s confidential: Your responses are protected by federal law. No law enforcement agency can access or use your personal information.*

It’s easy: In March 2020, you should have received an invitation from the Census Bureau by mail. For the first time ever, you will be able to respond online. Those who prefer, can respond by phone or by mail. Visit https://my2020census.gov/ to learn more and to respond on behalf of your household.
