58% of all Miami-Dade households are one emergency away from falling into poverty.

The majority are hard-working families who simply cannot cover their basic needs: food, housing, child care, health care, transportation.

We call them ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) yet you know them by their real names and faces. They are our co-workers, our neighbors . . . the people who care for our children and our aging parents, who keep our streets clean and safe, who keep our economy humming.

They are our most valuable and vulnerable citizens. And, that’s why we are fighting for them.

That’s what we do at United Way of Miami-Dade.

We fight for the education, financial stability and health of every person in our community.

And, with you by our side, together we can build a stronger Miami.
Mission

Building community by helping people care for one another.

Vision

We will have a caring community strengthened by its diversity and compassion. United Way will be seen as a catalyst in building community by bringing hearts, minds and resources together.
Dear friends,

Growing up we all remember “connect the dot” puzzles. We would start in one corner and draw a line from one dot to the next to the next, and before long, much to our wonder, a picture would form before our very eyes.

Much like that childhood game, United Way is all about connecting the dots. Education is the cornerstone for success in work and life. Without a good education, a good job is hard to come by — one that earns enough income to raise and support a family through retirement and beyond. And without good health, children struggle to learn and families struggle to provide for themselves.

Throughout the pages of this annual report, you will see how we are connecting the dots in education, financial stability and health — bringing ideas, people, organizations and resources together to improve the odds for children and families. You’ll also see how we are connecting people’s own philanthropic aspirations to address human need — combining capital, energy, expertise and creativity for the collective good. It is through these connections that we build community.

“Building community by helping people care for one another.” More than our mission, it represents our soul, our core, the heart of our work. And, in today’s uncertain times, never has this work been more important.

We thank you for joining us, for helping us fight for the education, financial stability and health for every person. United, we can and we will build a stronger Miami for all.

With gratitude,

Miguel G. Farra

Good decision-making

Financial Stability
Helping families prosper economically
Access to jobs
Financial management
Homelessness prevention

Health
Helping everyone – from young to old – lead full and productive lives
Access to care
Healthy aging
Healthy lifestyles

We achieve outcomes in these key areas by:
• Researching and assessing issues
• Developing and adopting long-range goals
• Championing collective action
• Engaging volunteers
• Fostering emerging leaders
• Advocating for solid public policies
• Investing in quality programs and initiatives
• Raising public awareness
• Forging collaborations
We believe that the sooner we get children on a path of learning, the more successful they will be throughout their lives. It’s that simple. It’s that clear. At United Way, we’re focused on ensuring that all children get off to a strong start and enter school ready to learn. And once they’ve entered elementary school, our goal is to support them academically and socially so they graduate on time and with the skills they need to succeed in college and in life.
This year our United Way Center for Excellence in Early Education celebrated ten years of championing children in Miami-Dade and beyond. In the past decade, the Center, together with a host of early education partners, has provided:

14,915 children with quality early intervention and experience that increase their chances for success in school and in life

20,476 total hours of professional learning to 32,525 early care and education professionals

1,280 early care and education programs with quality enhancement services

In addition, this past year we helped:

- 3,607 students receive literacy-based lessons
- 2,090 students receive homework assistance and tutoring
- 1,339 students receive post-secondary prep and support
- 82% improve their reading skills
- 84% maintain or improve their grades

At the same time:

9,393 young people participated in United Way-funded programs that helped them make effective choices and improve their behavior—leading to better grades, increased school attendance and fewer at-risk behaviors

TOTAL INVESTMENT IN EDUCATION PROGRAMS: $13.7 MILLION
EDEN Place

Over the past year, Eden Place has been able to open its doors to families in the community-at-large. This unique program allows us to connect families to resources, but most importantly, it allows us to connect parents to their child’s education.”

– Ieshia Haynie, director of program operations, Overtown Youth Center

In September, we launched EDEN Place (Educate. Develop. Empower. Nurture,) an educational family resource center, powered by the Overtown Youth Center. The program provides free, comprehensive services through workshops and one-on-one counseling for the entire family. EDEN Place also works with Miami-Dade Public Schools to help parents and guardians better understand their children’s schooling, the options available to them and how to remain engaged and empowered.

United Way Youth Institute

“United Way Youth Institute has allowed me to see my community from a different perspective and develop my leadership skills. I learned that there are lots of ways to contribute to our community; it only takes a choice to make a positive change.”

– Harry Tattay, a participant in United Way Youth Institute

Our United Way Youth Institute is a yearlong program that empowers at-risk local youth to become successful in school and agents of change in their community.
With nearly six out of 10 Miami households living in or on the edge of poverty, according to our United Way ALICE Report, we believe that empowering hard working individuals and families is essential to their success. Our goal is to connect them with the tools, training and opportunities – everything from emergency food and shelter to financial coaching to employment assistance to credit and banking services – so they can become financially independent.

THE NEED

- 50,633 unemployed in South Florida
- $56,760 the bare-minimum survival budget for a family of four in Miami-Dade
- 1 in 5 foster youth will become homeless after age 18
- Domestic violence is a leading cause of homelessness

HOW WE ARE BRIDGING THE GAP: FINANCIAL STABILITY

- Shelter: Connect families with safe and secure housing
- Employability: Build skills, credentials, and qualifications
- Food security: Providing security to common workforce barriers like transportation, child care and legal issues
- Find solutions: Through referrals
- Free Tax Assistance (VITA):
- Financial coaching: Understand and manage finances and credit
- Savings and assets: Build and protect
- Homebuyer education and preparation
OUR RESPONSE

This past year, we helped:

10,213 unemployed and underemployed individuals participate in United Way supported training and placement programs to help them access jobs.

More than 1,000 individuals receive shelter

Provide 175,000 meals

Through United Way financial counseling and literacy programs:

725 individuals participated in financial education workshops

124 clients received homeownership counseling services

76 clients were able to prevent foreclosure and maintain housing

Through our support of the IRS Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program:

3,428 families received $4,923,206 in tax credits

9,724 families accessed free tax preparation services

76 clients were able to prevent foreclosure and maintain housing
Mission United

“A lot of services will say, ‘here’s a number, good luck,’ but that wasn’t the case here. There’s always someone with you every step of the way, always following up, they want to see you succeed, and they want to see you do better, be better.”
– Stacy Roman, Marine Corps veteran

United Way Mission United empowers veterans and their families to lead productive lives and become contributing members of our community. Since launching in July 2016, United Way Mission United has served 124 veterans and their families in Miami-Dade. The greatest needs addressed have been employment issues, followed by legal and emergency financial services, along with building a sense of community and family post-military.

Bank On

“Now more than ever, being financially educated, along with understanding the wide variety of financial products and services available for one’s self is as essential as addressing one’s food, shelter, family, and work related priorities’ in one’s life.”
– Felix Soler, senior vice president, International Finance Bank

Launched in February 2016, Bank On Miami is a collaborative effort between Miami-Dade County, United Way and more than dozen banking partners. Through financial education – and a connection to community resources and coordination with banks, credits unions, and other financial institutions – Bank On Miami supports increased access to needed financial products and services. The goal is to help thousands of individuals save money and build solid financial futures.
When kids are sick, they can’t learn. Adults who aren’t healthy have a hard time keeping a job. Fact is, health influences everything we do. That’s why we take a comprehensive approach to health, from improving access to health to promoting healthy lifestyles to helping older adults maintain healthy and independent lives.

WE FIGHT FOR HEALTH

So that everyone – from young to old – can lead full and productive lives

When kids are sick, they can’t learn. Adults who aren’t healthy have a hard time keeping a job. Fact is, health influences everything we do. That’s why we take a comprehensive approach to health, from improving access to health to promoting healthy lifestyles to helping older adults maintain healthy and independent lives.

THE NEED

- 25% of Miami-Dade residents remain uninsured
- 35% of children in Miami-Dade are overweight or obese
- Miami-Dade has largest percent of people with mental illness among urban communities in the U.S.
- 1 in 7 older adults in South Florida faces the choice between paying for rent, medication or food

A PRESCRIPTION FOR WELLBEING

- Reduce barriers to care services, and decrease hospitalizations via prevention and selfcare management
- Increase kids’ physical activity and healthy food consumption
- Improve coping skills and decrease stress for individuals and caregivers
- Provide opportunities for older adults to socialize, exercise, and enjoy nutritious meals
- Help older adults maintain their independence and remain living at home for as long as possible
- Access health screenings, immunizations, doctor visits, and counseling
- Increase health insurance enrollment
- Increase understanding of behavioral health
This past year, we helped:

22,348 people access service for improving physical, mental, or emotional health through United Way-supported programs

6,512 people were linked to primary care services

19,467 total number of screenings, tests, and assessments were conducted through United Way-supported programs

10,665 older adults age 55 and over receive a nutritious meal, help at home to bathe or dress, and support for caregivers, including 2,263 vulnerable seniors age 85 and up

6,512 people were linked to primary care services

1,251 children engage in healthy eating, fitness and play

TOTAL INVESTMENT IN HEALTH PROGRAMS: $3.6 MILLION
Golden Wishes

“Seeing the faces of these seniors getting something they never dreamed of from their bucket list is very special. Whether the wish is swimming with dolphins or a chance to connect with family and friends, it is a moving experience for everyone involved.”

Golden Wishes is a United Way project that celebrates and values older adults in our community. Once a year, the program grants “wishes” for deserving seniors, age 70 and older.

“Through the grant from United Way, we’ve created an amazing partnership where we are coming to this school multiple times during the year to educate children on nutrition, exercise and the importance of moving. In the long run, they will be healthier as adults if the start earlier in life eating healthy.”

− Lissette Egues, assistant vice president, Baptist Health South Florida

United Way invested in its first United Way H.E.A.L. (Healthy Eating Active Living) site at Wesley Matthews Elementary School. In partnership with Baptist Health South Florida, the program is committed to promoting a healthier lifestyle, starting with a focus on healthy child weights.
“For the Grants, United Way is a family affair. What I love is that we are each involved in our individual way that speaks to our own passions and then there are times when we come together as a family to do good. There are no words to describe the feeling one gets from making a difference in another person’s life.”

– Jennifer Adger Grant
United Way Tocqueville Society and Women’s Leadership

“‘I’m a Young Leader because it gives me an opportunity to make an impact in the community in so many different ways, and at the same time connect with my peers.’”

– Erin Sutherland
United Way Young Leaders

“It was my dream to become a U.S. citizen. I love this country and I have enormous respect for those who have fought for our freedom. My parents are Holocaust survivors. They survived thanks to American troops. If it wasn’t for them, I wouldn’t be here. When I thought about how to help veterans, I realized very early on that the best partner by far was United Way and that’s why I got involved.”

– Tomás Erban
Co-Chair, United Way Mission United
"Knowing that just a couple of hours volunteering brings joy and excitement to a group of kids is what inspires me to do more. That’s why I got involved with LINC and why I encourage others to do the same. I want to see our efforts to continue to grow and make a lasting impact in our community far beyond our years.”

– Eddy Moya
United Way LINC

“I feel United Way has its finger on the pulse on the entire Miami-Dade community. United Way empowers and connects people to help each other. That’s why I’m involved.”

– Ana VeigaMilton
Board member, United Way of Miami-Dade
“It is an honor to work for a company that has been a part of the fabric of this community for so many years. As Ryder’s employee campaign manager, I enjoy encouraging my colleagues to join me in giving back. When we all come together for the greater good of the community in which we live and work, we make a difference that we can all be proud of, and we have a great time in the process.”

– Mel Kirk
Chief Information Officer and Employee Campaign Manager, Ryder System

“I learn something each and every moment through my Women’s Leadership experience. Not every day, can someone have the opportunity to lead such an outstanding and elite group of professional, giving women in Miami and see the positive results of our collective efforts.”

– Iliana Castillo Frick
Chair, United Way Women’s Leadership

WE FIGHT FOR A STRONGER MIAMI

20,950 hours of volunteer work

"Organized labor is proud of our long-standing partnership with United Way. It gives us a way as a movement to be active in our community, to understand the challenges we face, to be part of the solution by leveraging our resources in support of really critical services and programs while also ensuring somewhat of a safety net for our members and their families when facing tough times. It really is about neighbor helping neighbor."

– Andy Madtes
President, South Florida AFL-CIO

“I wish every student had a chance to be the student voice on the United Way board and have a chance to learn about the impact this organization has on so many people across our community. I am going to Johns Hopkins University, but this isn’t goodbye for me. This is see you later, as I plan to return to Miami to volunteer with United Way and do my part.”

– Lauren Paulet
Student representative to United Way board

1,620 volunteers participated in
52 community service projects

Martha Stewart in the house

Encouraging women to “think of yourself as fabulous,” keynote speaker Martha Stewart sat down with chair Melissa Medina for an entertaining Q & A at our 16th Annual United Way Women’s Leadership Breakfast. With more than 1,000 women in attendance, Stewart shared many personal anecdotes and words of advice. “My motto is when you are through changing, you are through,” she said. The breakfast was presented by UHealth, the Lennar Foundation Medical Center and Leslie Miller Saiontz and family.

Celebrating 10 years of championing children

We marked the 10th anniversary of our United Way Center for Excellence in Early Education with two celebrations in early February – first was a gathering of community leaders, child advocates, key partners and investors highlighting 10 years of accomplishments. Two days later, a community picnic brought together current and past students, families and staff for an afternoon of catching up, reminiscing and celebrating.
Staying connected

With many talents to offer and more time to give back, we launched a new volunteer group to tap into the energy and knowledge of retirees and the soon-to-be-retired. Continue United offers a range of volunteer, educational and social programming and opportunities to keep members active and engaged in the community – from financial seminars to the showing of a humorous documentary on the adventures of seniors, ages 70-90, at a speed dating event, called “The Age of Love.”

Eat. Drink. Unite.

While a storm called Matthew forced VeritageMiami to reschedule from the fall to the spring, the change did nothing to dampen any spirits. Presented by City National Bank, more than 3,500 food, wine and beer lovers gathered for the 21st annual VeritageMiami. This year’s edition featured Bravo’s “Top Chef” season 13 winner Jeremy Ford as the celebrity chef and a first-ever auction and brunch event, prepared by the culinary team from 50 Eggs, on Key Biscayne. In between those two signature events, guests also enjoyed a craft beer tasting in Wynwood and a fine wine tasting in Coral Gables – all in support of United Way.
Top Honors

In recognition of their extraordinary philanthropy, Darlene and Jorge Perez were presented with our United Way’s highest honor, the Tocqueville Award. Presented during a private reception at the home of Jayne and Leonard Abess, more than 400 fellow Tocqueville members joined in the celebration, along with Grammy award-winning singer Marc Anthony and former New York Yankee Alex Rodriguez. In accepting the award, Jorge Perez said, “It’s the highest honor one can receive from one’s peers, to stand out as somebody that gives. The community has been amazing to me and it’s very important to me to give back, so this recognition just makes me work that much harder in doing the right thing.”

Livin’ it Up x 2

For the second straight year, the Fontainebleau’s LIV nightclub was the scene of our annual United Way Mayor’s Ball. Hosted by Mayor Carlos Gimenez and Lourdes Gimenez, and chaired by Micheala and Jeff Gouveia of Suffolk – the presenting sponsor – more than 800 of Miami’s most influential and philanthropic came together in support of United Way.

Speaking out in Washington

Twenty of our United Way Women Leaders took their voices to our nation’s capital to advocate for quality early education. Over the course of two-and-a-half days, the women met with Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos; U. S. Senator Marco Rubio; U. S. Representatives Carlos Curbelo, Mario Diaz-Balart, Ileana Ros-Lehtinen, and Frederica Wilson; and White House Director of Media Affairs Helen Aguirre Ferré, making the case for the importance of investing in early education initiatives.
Hands on Overtown

Members from our four giving communities – Tocqueville Society, Women’s Leadership, Young Leaders and L.I.N.C. – came together for a first-ever United Way Leaders Day of Action, in celebration of National Volunteer Week. More than 100 volunteers joined with staff and families from Overtown Youth Center, a United Way impact partner agency, for some indoor and outdoor fun – playing basketball and soccer, assembling and distributing produce and other healthy cooking ingredients to neighborhood families; refurbishing and beautifying classrooms and the center’s vegetable and herb garden.

Breaking bread and barriers

To build more widespread kindness, empathy and understanding, our United Way teamed up with the Miami Herald, the Children’s Trust, MCCJ, the Miami Foundation, Radical Partners and 80 community organizations on a grassroots community building initiative called Connect Miami. For the last 10 days of May, Connect Miami challenged people to step out of their comfort zones and build meaningful relationships across lines of difference. The outcome was more than 100 different activities: potlucks, community dialogues, Facebook live conversations, open houses, bread-breaking and much more – resulting in more than 11,000 connections.
We take our role as stewards of contributor dollars very seriously. There is nothing more important than the trust our contributors place in us. We have institutionalized strict governance practices which include volunteer oversight at every level to ensure that highest standards of operational efficiency and effectiveness.

United Way provides services or participates in partnerships to improve the social service system in Miami-Dade County and beyond. Serving as fiscal agent, advocating for our public policy priorities, or bringing the community together to affect positive changes, we helped to influence an additional $11.8 million in resources for our community (pending Governor Scott’s approval of state budget), illustrating how our impact goes beyond the direct economic value of our work.

Employees of Assurant strike a pose before their 5K to benefit United Way

At the heart of every successful business are its employees. And, no place does that ring truer than at Publix. More than our favorite neighborhood grocer, Publix is our community’s most generous corporate citizen. And, now for two years in a row, Publix and its associates have contributed more than $3 million to our United Way – putting them in a league all of their own. Under the leadership of Bob Bechtel and John Goff, associates have been active participants in United Way events throughout the year. At the same time, we were provided providing on-site free tax preparation to its employees through the United Way Center for Financial Stability. In appreciation, United Way staff and volunteers spent a day visiting over 80 stores to say thank to Publix’s 19,000 employees for their remarkable generosity.
Among the ways our United Way helps make Miami a more educated, prosperous and healthy community is by investing in 117 programs at 48 impact partners and eight impact grantees that achieve measurable results. Program investment decisions are made by trained community volunteers from a variety of professional backgrounds, based on community needs, strategic objectives, programmatic outcomes, and agency governance and stewardship practices.

In addition to the investments listed below, some individuals chose to direct their gifts to a single agency. More than 600 nonprofits received support through the 2016 United Way campaign, bringing additional services to the people of Miami-Dade as well as in other communities.

For nearly 40 years, Sue Miller made United Way’s mission of building community by helping people care for one another her life’s mission. Founder of our Tocqueville and Women’s Leadership programs, Sue left her imprint on everyone and everything she touched. A generous spirit, a kind heart, her legacy continues to inspire us all, each and every day.
